A discussion between the new director of the East office of the Deutscher Normenausschuss (DNA) Ing. Semmelroth (fnu), professor H. H. Franck and Eberhard Arlt, head of the East German Office for Standardizat: , was planned for 14 July 1953. Arlt, however, called off the session, and as of 10 September 1953 the men had not yet met. It is assumed that Arlt cancelled the meeting because he had received no instructions from the Central Committee of the SED on how to act toward the DNA. As of 10 September 1953 the DNA had still not received the names of the ten East German members of the Praesidium.
